Y. BUILDING SOLD TO OIL CORPORATION

Roxanna Co. Bought Y. M. C. A. Property Here Tuesday

Good Is Candidate

Announcement was made today of the sale of the Dixon Young Men's Christian Association building and property to the Roxanna Petroleum Products Corporation, which interest since November 6th. L. J. Talbot, Moline, of the extension department of the Roxanna Company, spent yesterday afternoon in Dixon and meeting with President Henry Hey and Secretary Everett Dutcher of the board of directors of the association, completed the transaction.

In the announcement given out by President Henry Hey today, it was stated that the purchase price was $21,000, which amount was paid yesterday by the company's representative. The Roxanna Company has been communicating with the officers of the association board of directors for the past ten weeks in the completion of the purchase of the property. Just what is to be done with the present building has not been definitely determined, but it is anticipated that it will be offered for sale and if disposed of, will be removed from the lot on Third street and Gena avenue.

In the event that the building is not sold, it is expected that it will be razed to make room for the building of another structure, the type of which will be decided by the engineering department of the purchasing firm.

Use Not Indicated. Mr. Talbot during his visit here, did not indicate just what use would be made of the property, and leaving Dixon went to Burlington, Wis. He was expected to be back in Dixon within a few days to arrange further plans.

It was indicated, however, that the property would not stand idle for any length of time, but that work would be started immediately. It was indicated that the Roxanna Company would build a fine service station on the corner with entrance drives on Third street and Gena avenue. For several years the Roxanna Company has been seeking a site for the erection of a service station in Dixon and many locations have been considered. The company has maintained a large storage plant just north of the city limits, which is now under the management of Robert Johnson, for the past few years without having a service station in the city.

The type of station to be erected in the association property has not been definitely decided upon, but it is anticipated that it will be one of the largest in this section of the state.

Passing Regretted. The passing of the Young Men's Christian Association in Dixon is regretted not only by the members, the directors who labored to keep the organization intact, but by hundreds of boys who were always able to find pleasant accommodations and entertainment at the "Y" building.

The association closed its doors March 15 of this year, the action being considered necessary by the board of directors because of depleted finances. At the time, it was planned to raise a sum of $30,000 with which to pay off the indebtedness and at the same time to create a fund sufficient to operate the association for one year. The directors employed the services of an expert in Y. M. C. A. work, who after making a thorough canvass locally advised the raising of at least 36 per cent of the amount necessary to continue the association work in Dixon.

Canvass Unsuccessful. The result of this canvass for funds was very discouraging to the board and an amount which was far from sufficient to carry on the association work was realized, which resulted in the closing of the building.

The entire amount realized through the sale of the association building and property is to be applied to the indebtedness. The members of the board of directors plan to dispose of the balance of the indebtedness as soon as possible after the first of the year.

The Dixon Young Men's Christian association is not to be abandoned as an organization in Dixon. A meeting of the board of directors will be held after the first of the new year at which time it is expected to continue the organization at a minimum membership fee. The association organization is the recipient of a few requests each year and these are said to be of sufficient amounts to assure the continuation of the organization.

BLIZZARD AND COLD WAVE IN SOUTHERN ILL.

Traffic Is Hampered: Telephone Lines Crippled

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. 18—(AP)—A heavy blinding snowstorm swept southern Illinois today, making state highway traffic slow and nearly impossible at some points. More than six inches of snow had fallen here this morning and it was still snowing.

Centralia, Ill., Dec. 18—(AP)—With a gale of fifty miles an hour, a drop in temperature of forty degrees in fifteen hours, six inches of snowfall in Centralia and telegraph and telephone wires crippled, southern and central Illinois is experiencing the second severe blizzard of the season today. On November 29 the mercury tumbled down to four degrees below zero in parts of southern Illinois and roads in many places were impassable.

Today the snow was drifting badly over many of the routes in this territory and automobiles were forced to drive at a snail's pace in the face of the blinding snow. Practically all of the country roads were abandoned entirely.

The telephone company here reported that the long distance toll service to St. Louis was a total failure with the wires down in many places. Over 200 cases of telephone failures were reported in Centralia and telephone poles were reported down in many sections of the city.

The new Elks home under construction here also suffered materially from the blizzard when the steel frame work, weighted down by the snow and oscillating in the high wind crashed to the ground about 8 o'clock this morning.

Snow and high wind was reported as far south as Cairo, Illinois.

County Roads Are Closed By Drifts

Show which drifted almost five feet high in many places had tied up all traffic on the county patrol gravel road from Amboy to Shaw station today, and County Superintendent of Highways Fred Leake, ordered the road closed temporarily. In the mean time a force of patrolmen were put to work on the gravel stretch from the Shaw station corners to Paw Paw in an effort to open the road to traffic, but the stiff wind blew the snow back into drifts almost as rapidly as the plows could force it away.

Traffic to and from Amboy, Shaw station, West Brooklyn, Compton and Paw Paw was being returned through Lee Center to the route 2 paving following the closing of the road from Shaw to Amboy. Superintendent Leake stated this afternoon that every effort was being made to keep the road open to traffic and that as soon as the wind subsided, the patrolmen will attempt to clear away the numerous drifts. One of the big buses hauling students from the east end of the county to the Amboy township high school, was compelled to abandon its daily task this morning because of the deep drifts and many students remained at their homes. Milk trucks coming into Amboy were also delayed some time and were forced to seek passable detours.

Snook Waits Word

Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 18—(UP)—The state Supreme Court took no action today on the appeal of Dr. James Howard Snook, former Ohio State University professor, from his sentence to death, scheduled for Friday night, for the murder of his ex-wife, Mrs. Theora Hix, 25. Today was the court's weekly decision day.

The court is expected to hand down a special decision, probably tomorrow, or grant Dr. Snook another stay. Snook was to have been executed on Nov. 29 but was given a stay pending filing of an appeal.

At the time, it was planned to raise a sum of $30,000 with which to pay off the indebtedness and at the same time to create a fund sufficient to operate the association for one year.

The directors employed the services of an expert in Y. M. C. A. work, who after making a thorough canvass locally advised the raising of at least 36 per cent of the amount necessary to continue the association work in Dixon.

The result of this canvass for funds was very discouraging to the board and an amount which was far from sufficient to carry on the association work was realized, which resulted in the closing of the building.

The entire amount realized through the sale of the association building and property is to be applied to the indebtedness. The members of the board of directors plan to dispose of the balance of the indebtedness as soon as possible after the first of the year.

The Dixon Young Men's Christian association is not to be abandoned as an organization in Dixon. A meeting of the board of directors will be held after the first of the new year at which time it is expected to continue the organization at a minimum membership fee. BEIER BAKERY CELEBRATING; 60 YEARS OLD

Institution Is Model Of Cleanliness And Real Efficiency

The Beier bakery, strictly a Dixon organization, which has grown gradually and consistently since 1869, is this week celebrating its sixtieth anniversary. Not only are the members of the firm celebrating the birthday, but the public has been invited to participate in the anniversary of one of the city's oldest industries. Saturday afternoon from 2:30 until 5:30 and again Saturday evening from 7 until 9:30, the public has been invited to participate in the sixtieth anniversary celebration and visit the bakery on Hennepin avenue, which ranks among the most modern in the country, and view the modern process of the art of bread and pastry baking.

Employees will act as guides during the visiting hours, explaining each department and machine which is used and the processes of the modern baking art, from the time the flour is dumped into the automatic hoppers until the golden crusted loaf comes from the automatic wrapping machines ready for delivery and consumption. Souvenirs of the occasion are to be distributed to those taking advantage of this opportunity of learning the methods of present day baking as conducted on an immense scale.

Through Many Processes

The average person sitting down to a meal and being served a slice of bread, knows very little of the processes necessary to produce that very important part of human subsistence. During the sixty years of the steadily growing bakery business under the Beier management in this city, methods and processes have changed many times in each generation. Today, machinery replaces the hands which only a few years ago kneaded the dough and handled the loaves, both before and after they were placed in the oven for baking.

In the original baking plant of the Beier institution, less than one car load of flour was used yearly to supply the demand for baker's bread in Dixon and vicinity. Today more than a car load of flour is used each week, or an average of 60 cars in a year to provide bread for the customers in 87 cities, towns and villages to which the Beier fleet of Dodge Brothers trucks make daily delivery.

The Beier bakery is not an institution which has been closed because of conditions, for invoice or the many other reasons attributed to many other industries at slack periods. Instead it operates practically every day in the year supplying the chief article of food to thousands of tables. The baking plant has a capacity of 24,000 loaves daily which is consumed almost entirely in northwestern Illinois.

Three Special Brands

Specializing in three popular brands, Buttercrust, Potato bread, Beier's Special, the local bakery turns out each year many brands of dark breads, bun of many varieties, cookies, and pastry. More than a million Goldenflake doughnuts were produced in the Beier bakery since the first of the present year. In that same space of time, more than three million loaves of bread have

Two Dead, Two Hurt In Rockford Crash

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 18—(UP)—Two persons were killed, two others probably fatally injured and a fifth seriously hurt when a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and Pacific passenger train struck their automobile near Camp Grant last night.

Mrs. Irma Johnston, 29, and Arthur Johnston, Jr., 4, her son, were killed. Veria, a daughter, and William Corryell, 16, of Loyal, Wis., nephew of Arthur Johnston, driver of the car, were seriously injured and little hope is held for their recovery.

Johnston said that he was blinded by the snowstorm and failed to see the approaching train. His car was demolished.

Cold Wave And Snow Arrive On Schedule

Chicago, Dec. 18—(AP)—A blustering snow storm riding hard on the crest of a strong north wind, swept down upon Chicago today, covering streets with drifts two feet deep and hampering traffic throughout the city.

A sharp drop in temperature accompanied the snow fall. Zero by tonight was the forecast with a continuation of the overcast skies which have darkened the city for the past few days.

Today's storm renewed hopes for a white Christmas.

CHRISTMAS IS BUT ONE WEEK AWAY; GOODFELLOWS FACING TREMENDOUS RESPONSIBILITY

Some Fine Donations To Fund Received This Morning

The poor kids of Dixon today received a fine boost toward a happy Christmas by some fine donations. Among those were $100, donated by the J. L. Case Co. and employees; $25 sent by Hawley Wilbur, head of the Wilbur Lumber Company and former resident here; $25 donated by the Dixon Nurses Alumni. A number of other donations were received and will be noted tomorrow.

The Goodfellows of Dixon seem to be waking up to the fact that Christmas is nearly here, for over $100 was donated over the 24 hours closing yesterday noon. If this rate can be continued for the remaining days before Christmas the Goodfellow fund will reach respectable proportions, although it will be greatly inadequate for the demands.

Hundreds of idle boys and girls are eagerly waiting for the Goodfellows to bring Santa Claus to them. Do you want any of them to spend Christmas day with tear stained faces and broken little hearts because

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

CHRISTMAS VACATION
Students of the Dixon public and high schools will enjoy a two weeks holiday vacation starting this week. The schools will close with the completion of studies Friday afternoon for Christmas and New Years, to reconvene Monday morning, January 6, 1930.

THANKS FOR KISSES
The Home Lumber & Coal Company today presented the Evening Telegraph with boxes of tempting confection. Some of the feminine members of the force declared that never had they "tasted such sweet kisses."

ARE REAPPOINTED
State Highway Officers Robert Card and Cushman of Sterling were in Dixon this morning on business. Both officers, who are well known in Dixon and vicinity recently received their commission of reappointment under Governor Louis L. Emmett. Officer Card is one of the veteran members of the state highway police and has proven himself a very efficient officer.

SON GRADUATED
Mrs. John Wishart went to Chicago yesterday, where she witnessed the graduation of her son, Dr. Charles LeSage, from Rush Medical College, receiving his B. S. Degree. Dr. LeSage has already made a brilliant name for himself as an interne. He is the elder son of the late Dr. LeSage, most successful eye, ear and throat specialist.

TO AID GOODFELLOWS
The management of the roller skating rink at Moose hall anticipates an exceptionally large patronage this evening, for the entire proceeds of the evening will be donated to the Goodfellows Fund, which is badly in need of further contributions. Skaters and spectators will have an opportunity of an evening of pleasure and at the same time helping a most worthy cause.

GUARD RAN AMUCK
Pearl Summers of Polo, one of the bank guards of that city, ran amuck on the north side yesterday afternoon and spent about seven hours in the city jail, where he was taken by Chief Van Bibber. The chief was summoned after Summers was reported to have flamed a star in a lunch room, claiming to be a deputy sheriff from Ogle county after an argument had started. When the chief arrived, the bank guard had been taken into a garage to prevent his being arrested, but the officer found him with two of the employees later and escorted Summers to the city jail.

Last evening, charges of being intoxicated and disorderly were preferred before Justice J. O. Shaulis in police court and Summers was assessed a fine of $20 and costs which was paid.

BUILDING INSPECTOR

Members of the Associated Building Contractors appeared before a very busy session of the city council last evening, urging the appointment of a city building inspector as provided for in the new city's building code. It was explained that the code provided for the appointment of a building inspector to whom all plans and specifications for buildings within the city limits are to be submitted for his inspection before a permit may be issued.

Mayor F. D. Palmer told the delegation of contractors that he would assure them the appointment of an inspector at the next meeting of the council next Tuesday evening. The building public under the code adopted some weeks ago is required to submit to the city inspector at this office in the city hall, all plans for building, plumbing or electrical wiring and a permit must be secured before the work can be started.

Good Is Candidate

(Telegraph Special Service)
Oregon, Dec. 18—(AP)—Sam Good today formally announced his candidacy for the office of Treasurer of Ogle County, subject to a life long resident of Ogle county and served nine years as a member of the Board of Supervisors until three years ago, when he was elected to the office of sheriff on an independent platform. The candidate cites his record as sheriff as one of his qualifications for the office which he seeks.

BURKE SLEPT IN SERVICE STATION TUES.

Traveling in Essex Sedan Attendant Tells the Police

Chicago, Dec. 18—(AP)—Patrick Roche, Chief Investigator for the State's Attorney, made the cryptic announcement today: "Fred Burke will be arrested in Chicago by tonight."

He would say no more. The inference was that detectives had under surveillance the hiding place of the killer, bank baddie and accused McMan gang executioner sought in many states.

At the same time Roche made known that the ownership of two machine guns found in Burke's bungalow at St. Joseph, Mich., after he had killed a policeman there Saturday, had been traced.

Gun No. 2347, Roche said, was sold Nov. 12, 1924, to Deputy Sheriff Leslie Farmer of Marion, Ill., during disturbances there. He understood that Farmer had since been associated with the notorious "Egan's Rats" of St. Louis.

Gun No. 7580 was traced to Victor Thompson of Elgin, Ill., who once before was questioned concerning ownership of machine guns. Thompson was understood to have sold the gun to P. Von Francis of Chicago. Both guns originally were purchased from a detective story publishing house here.

BULLETIN
Detroit, Dec. 18—(UP)—Police squads today raided alleged underworld haunts of Fred Burke, "the most dangerous man alive" and arrested two men and two women.

Harry Haffley, 35; his wife, Doris, 28; Martin Brennan, 32, and his wife, Gladys, 20, were being held incommunicado. Police refused to give any information regarding the arrests.

BULLETIN
Jackson, Mich., Dec. 18—(UP)—Fred Burke, gang killer, slept peacefully in a filing station here Tuesday night while officers scoured the midnight for him, police announced today.

Robert Clare, a filling station attendant, identified pictures of Burke, wanted for a dozen murders, as the man who sought rest in his station.

The man was accompanied by a young woman and another man, Clare said. The three were traveling in an Essex sedan with a Delaware license.

Sheriff Thomas Lovitt told the United Press the trio left toward Detroit three hours before officers knew anything about it.

Chicago, Dec. 18—(AP)—Many cities today cut new news in the book of crime imputed to Fred Burke as the search for the reputed killer, kidnapper, and bank robber became more intense.

The man hunt for the former lieutenant of "Scarface Al" Capone was still centered in Chicago with police seeking definitely to connect Burke with the massacre of the seven Moran gangsters last St. Valentine's Day; but many other chapters to the book were written elsewhere.

In Detroit, Burke was described as the man who taught the gunman to become the machine gunner; the man who gave lessons in kidnapping—who made a million from ransom robberies.

In addition, Inspector Henry J. Garvin of the Detroit crime and bomb squad, called Burke the head of the "most desperate band of outlaws in the country" and not one of them, I believe, will ever be taken alive.

Others in Gang
From St. Louis, the inspector added, came gunmen from the remnants of Egan's Rats, once a notorious gang. Others came from elsewhere—the roster containing the names of the following leaders: Garvin said: Ray (Crane Neck) August of Hamilton, Ohio; and Gus Winkler, Bob Newberry and Raymond McGinnis, alias Shocker, all from St. Louis.

Meanwhile, recognition of Burke in a downtown Chicago hotel by a man who "used to play cards with him in St. Joseph, Mich." where Burke posed as a gentleman of means, only bore out a previous belief of Chicago police that Burke would seek hiding in this city—where police said he was once the expert machine gunner for the Capone gang and as such was in command at the Moran massacre.

The identification was made by William Hutchinson of New Buffalo, Mich. "I could not have been mis-

PLANE FALLS IN AFRICA: MAY BE BRITISH OUTFIT

Officials Fear Long-Distance Fliers Met Disaster

Tunis, Tunisia, Dec. 18—(UP)—Native advisers reported today that an airplane had fallen in the desert 200 miles south of here and that two occupants of the plane had been killed.

A French airplane was ordered sent immediately to the position given by the natives to seek the wreckage and identify the plane, which officials feared was the British Fairley-Napier in which Squadron Leader A. G. Jones-Williams and Flight Lieutenant N. H. Jenkins were attempting a non-stop flight from Cranwell, England, to Capetown.

Tunis is a French protectorate in northern Africa, on the Mediterranean. It lies directly south of Sardinia, near which the fliers were last reported more than 24 hours ago. It is a mountainous region except in the extreme south, where it levels off into desert.

London, Dec. 18—(AP)—More than 24 hours had elapsed this afternoon since news had been received in any quarter from the Royal Air Force monoplane that left Cranwell airbase yesterday in an attempt to set a new world's record for long-distance straight-line flights.

Squadron Leader A. G. Jones-Williams and Flight Lieutenant A. H. Jenkins, who were heading for Cape Town, South Africa, 6,000 miles distant, were last reported off the island of Sardinia in the Mediterranean.

The Air Ministry was anxious, but not alarmed. Officials believed that some accident had prevented the aviators from reporting their progress by wireless.

Douglas Sheriff Given Big Order

Taylorville, Ill., Dec. 18—(AP)—H. O. R. Twiford, of Douglas county, has recently received an order that if executed will put him in a class with Evanston's famous dog catcher.

The sheriff has been instructed by the state Department of Agriculture to see that all dogs within the limits of Tuscola township "be either locked up, restrained by leash and muzzle, or vaccinated against rabies by a licensed veterinarian."

This seemed to be so big a job to Sheriff Twiford that he called in all of his deputies and also invoked the help of the entire township by asking that all unmuzzled and unvaccinated dogs be reported to his office at once. He is also contemplating a census of the dog population of the township.

The order was issued by the Department of Agriculture after Dorothy Linton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Linton was bitten several days ago by a mad dog. The dog traveled over most of the township before it was caught.

WEATHER

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN RIGHT AND WRONG DOESN'T MAKE ANY DIFFERENCE TO SOME PEOPLE.

Many of the bodies were found with arms or legs broken, while others were horribly bruised or burned. Identification in many cases was difficult; one man's identity was established only through the fact that he was known to have a broken toe.

Joe Ponsella, Arnold Kessinger and Frank Gonzales, the three men taken from the mine alive, all told stories of a terrific concussion which left them dazed and deafness. Working much nearer the entrance than the others in the mine, the trio groped their way farther into the entry and away from the main shaft, wearing the dread mine lamp, then all lapsed into unconsciousness until they were taken to an emergency hospital, near the scene of the disaster.

Woman Convicted

Benton, Ill., Dec. 18—(UP)—Liberating eight hours, a Circuit Court jury, early today found Mrs. Helen Makowski, of Pershing, guilty of the ax murder of Stanley Molonowsky, a boarder, and fixed punishment at from one to fourteen years in the state prison at Joliet.

The jury received the case late yesterday, and took many ballots before arriving at a decision, it was said.

Girls Team Split

Los Angeles, Dec. 16—(AP)—The feminine endurance flight team of Bobbie Trout and Elinor Smith appeared to have split today and announcement that Miss Smith had departed suddenly for her home in New York.

The two girls recently remained aloft 42 hours 18 minutes, being forced to land by inability to refuel in the dark. Another attempt at a record was planned, and mechanics have been working on motors of the refueling planes in preparation for the flight.

Miss Smith's only explanation of her departure was that her grandmother was ill in Freeport, N. Y.

Miss Trout said that on the next flight "Miss Smith will not be in the plane." Both girls have at one time or another held the solo endurance record for women.

BURKE SLEPT
IN SERVICE

taken," the Michigan man said. I know him well. His eyes lighted on me and I knew in a flash that he recognized me. I got the impression he held a weapon and was prepared to shoot me if I tried to have him arrested.

Crimes Charged
Oiting some of the crimes charged to Burke and his gang, Detroit police listed the following—the total loot in which they place at a million dollars:

Kidnaping ransom in Detroit over a period of eight years, $200,000; Kay jewelry robbery in Detroit, 1924 $6,000; United Railways holdup in St. Louis, $38,000; Mail truck holdup in Toledo, Ohio, $200,000; bank robbery in Cadillac, Mich., $60,000; bank robbery in Peru, Ind., $93,000; bank robbery in Jefferson, Wis., $352,000.

Seven deaths in the Moran massacre; two killings in Detroit; one in the Toledo holdup—these are some of the murders charged to Burke.

And the nationwide search that disclosed this mammoth portrayal of crime was begun last Sunday following a traffic argument in St. Joseph, Mich. Burke was asked by Patrolman Charles Skelley to accompany him to the police station to "straighten out" a traffic tangle.

Burke drew his revolver and fired several shots at Skelley. The patrolman fell fatally wounded—adding another to the list of dead.

COMPARE MARKINGS
Chicago, Dec. 18—(UP)—The latest scientific discoveries, which so many times enabled Fred R. Burke "the most dangerous man alive," to avoid capture, were employed against him by police today in an effort to establish more firmly his connection with the St. Valentine's Day massacre.

Major Calvin C. Goddard, New York, one of the greatest experts in the science of ballistics, which interprets markings guns make upon bullets, was comparing slugs from machine guns found in Burke's St. Joseph, Mich., bungalow with those removed from the bodies of seven members of the Bugs Moran gang last year.

A scientific fact as yet unknown to the underworld may prove Burke's undoing. That is that metal underneath the identifying numbers on machine guns is slightly softer than that on the rest of the weapon, due to the fact that acid used in etching the numbers affects the material.

The number on one gun found in the bungalow had been filed away. Lieut. William Cox of the automobile bureau of the Chicago police mounded a cup of wax around the place where the numbers should have been and filled that cup with acid. The number 7580 developed like a photograph negative.

Bullets fired from this gun correspond somewhat with those found in the bodies of the Moran gangsters, according to Coroner Herman Bundesen, who made preliminary examinations yesterday with one of the only two ballistic measuring machines in existence.

The recreated number has been forwarded to the Thompson Machine Gun Company of New York for identification. Information from that concern, expected today, may do much to prove the weapon was used in the Moran killings.

Y. BUILDING
CORPORATION

Members of the board are unanimous in keeping alive the association organization in Dixon so that at any time that sufficient stimulus appears a renewal of the association may be undertaken, thus leaving an opening for the future.

The building, which yesterday passed into the hands of one of the largest petroleum products companies in the world, has housed the Dixon Y. M. C. A. for the past 23 years. The structure was erected following the campaign conducted by Evangelist Billy Sunday in Dixon. The Young Men's Christian association organization was launched in Dixon in 1889. Three of its charter members now living are E. B. Raymond, John Laing and A. P. Arrington.

With the disposition of the association property, several organizations who enjoyed the building as a meeting place have been forced to seek other locations. Last year more than a score of organizations were using the association building as a place in which meetings were held. Chief among these and one of the most important was the Hi-Y club, composed of high school students, between 30 and 40 in number.

Reorganize Club.
Plans were announced this morning to continue the splendid work of this organization. Following a conference with those foremost in the carrying on of the Hi-Y program, it was stated today that the organization would be re-organized and continued under the leadership of Prof. A. H. Lancaster, Principal of the schools, who has been very active in this department of work for several years.

Temporarily, it is planned to establish a meeting place in which the Hi-Y club will meet and conduct its meetings. Later, with the completion of the cafeteria department at the new high school, it is planned to conduct the meetings at the school next year. It is also planned to increase the membership of the organization by changing the by-laws which govern the selection of membership so as to remove the apparent semi-exclusive nature of the organization which was originally drafted to depend upon the popularity of the student members.

O. E. S. Christmas Party Friday Night

The next meeting of Dorothy Chapter No. 371, O. E. S., which will be held on Friday evening, December 20th, at the Masonic Temple, promises to be one of the most unusual, this year. The meeting will start promptly at 8 o'clock and will be followed by a happy evening of revelry.

To start with there will be Christmas music and entertainment. The hands of time will be turned back centuries with the singing of Christmas carols. Tables of bridge will be provided with truly fine electrical prizes for the winners, and too, there will be refreshments, a beautifully decorated Christmas tree, and a Santa Claus. If you're "from Missouri," come to the meeting and party and BE CONVINCED THAT THERE IS ONE. Arrangements have been made to have him stop at the Temple with a gift for every member.

Memories of happy childhood will surround this meeting and party, and it is hoped that as many of the members as can will plan to come and enjoy the fun that is in store for them. Mrs. O. L. Gearhart is in charge of arrangements and is leaving no stone unturned to make the meeting and party echo and re-echo the holiday spirit. Surprises are being planned that will not be revealed until that night.

The meeting will bring to a close a very happy and prosperous year for Dorothy Chapter.

Elks' Christmas Dance Dec. 25th

The Elks will entertain with their annual Christmas dance on the evening of December 25th, Christmas night, at Armory hall. The Elks have always succeeded in making this a most enjoyable and memorable party and this year it is planned to make it more successful than ever. An excellent out-of-town orchestra has been procured and will furnish good music. The hall will be appropriately decorated in the holiday spirit and nothing will be left undone to make the evening one of happiness for all attending.

Woodmen's Masquerade Successful Affair

The Modern Woodmen held a most enjoyable masquerade dance in the Armory last evening, which was largely attended. The costumes were clever, or picturesque, as the case might be. There were some twenty prizes awarded for costumes. There was good dance music. Dancing continued until a late hour and everyone had a most enjoyable time.

PRIMARY DEPT. TO PRACTICE SATURDAY MORNING

The members of the Primary Department of St. Paul's Lutheran Sunday School taking part in the Christmas program are requested to meet at the church Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Entertained For Mrs. Mayme Haling

Yesterday Mrs. A. B. Whitcombe delightfully entertained a company of friends and neighbors honoring Mrs. Mayme Haling who is leaving Dixon Thursday evening for Los Angeles, Cal., where she will make her home. There were present at the enjoyable affair yesterday thirty-two guests and everyone had a happy afternoon, as all were friends and some neighbors of years standing, and many were the merry reminiscences and stories of by-gone years. The Whitcombe home was gay with colorful Christmas decorations, candles and flowers. During the afternoon Mrs. L. N. Deutsch, in behalf of those assembled, presented Mrs. Haling with a very nice gift, expressing in her gracious manner the best wishes of all and also voicing their regret at Mrs. Haling's departure, with the hope that her journey to the west be pleasant and her residence there satisfying and happy. The hostess served her guests delicious refreshments, completing the pleasure of all.

Women of Germany Seek Third Empire

Berlin—(AP)—Women's hands will build up a third German empire unless perchance the plans of Germany's national women's committee for fighting the Versailles treaty should "gang aley."

The committee's recent call to a meeting on "the tribute plan of Paris and the responsibility of German womanhood" so packed the former Prussian house of lords with nationalist women that an overflow meeting had to be hastily arranged in a neighboring hall.

Frau Boda Philipp, presiding officer of the "ring of nationalist women," told the meeting that "now in this time of official terrorism, we German women must hold together."

"In spite of all terror and all opposition, nationalist Germans will build up a third empire of the Germans," prophesied Frau Katherine Hertwig, member of the Prussian diet, adding that "the voice of the German people must be heard" on the Dawes and Young plans.

President von Hindenburg's recent public condemnation of the German nationalist's effort to hear the people's voice through an anti-Young plan referendum was summarily dismissed by other speakers as "surely a misunderstanding."

Miss Mabel Normand Reported Improved

Los Angeles, Dec. 18—(AP)—Mabel Normand, once one of the screen's most prominent actresses, is slightly improved, her physician, Dr. Francis M. Pottenger, said today, but her condition still is serious. Miss Normand has been making a desperate fight against tuberculosis at a sanitarium in Monrovia, Calif., near here, for several months. She is the wife of Lew Cody, film actor.

Helene Costello and Lowell Sherman to Wed

Los Angeles, Dec. 17—(AP)—Helene Costello, daughter of Maurice Costello and sister of Mrs. John Barrymore, and Lowell Sherman, motion picture actor, will be married during the latter part of March and will spend a honeymoon abroad.

Announcement was made yesterday by Miss Costello, screen player. Miss Costello is the former wife of John Y. Regan, member of a prominent New York family. Her divorce became final a short time ago. Sherman is the former husband of Pauline Garon, film actress.

FAIR FLIERS FROWN ON 'BUNNY' REGALIA

New York—(AP)—Women pilots must not look like chorus bunnies in their pursuit of styles plus comfort. That was the opinion of the "winged women" who viewed a private showing of style apparel for aviators here.

One costume of beige suede lined with ocelot fur, although snappy looking, was passed up by the women fliers because it looked too much like something out of "Alice in Wonderland."

They liked a creation of white washable suede consisting of a sleeveless jersey, a windbreaker and long breeches. The white leather helmet was an adaptation of an Agnes model.

Sure Relief "MAKES YOU FEEL BETTER"

A blue leather coverall lined with camels' hair was considered trim and comfortable. A gray covert cloth dress, with trick fastenings from shoulder to wrist so that it could be zipped on over a chiffon or silk frock, also won favorable comment.

Mrs. McCormick Now On Navy Committee

Washington, Dec. 17—(UP)—Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, Rep. Ill., was initiated today as a new member of the Naval Affairs committee. Chairman Britten notified her at the outset of the committee's hearing on the navy promotion bill that she would be known to the committee as "McCormick" rather than "Mrs. McCormick." This would remind her, Britten explained that she is now "one of us."

The chairman then appointed her to the subcommittee on yards and docks and Naval Academy. The latter appointment was made with the reservation that no girls are to be appointed to the naval academy.

"You are having a great deal of fun with me, aren't you?" Mrs. McCormick remarked.

Their Bridle Path Is Now Bridal Path

Chicago, Dec. 17—(AP)—The bride path Miss Elizabeth Merrill followed with William C. Booth for instructor has ended. It was learned today, in their marriage. The couple have been married since Thanksgiving.

Miss Merrill, Junior leaguer, horse-woman and reputedly wealthy is 22 years old. Booth, a former instructor at the Evanston Saddle Club, gave his age on the application for marriage license as 31.

AMERICANS HAVE THEM SIX INCHES BELOW KNEE

New York, Dec. 18—(UP)—Ignoring whatever plans Paris couturiers may have for continuing their long-skirt campaign, 50 American designers have settled the issue for themselves by setting the length of skirts for eraser wear at exactly six inches below the knee.

They presented their new creations at the spring style show of the United Cloak & Suit Designers, preceding the showing of Paris spring fashions by at least a month. Their spring styles, the American designers said, are in answer to the demand of American woman for shorter skirts and less extreme modes.

Skirts shown in the exhibition here had higher waist lines than in recent years and belts on coats have been moved upward. Black was the predominant color, although vivid combinations, particularly red and tan, were in evidence. Tweed is again the favored material for cloaks and ensembles.

SIXTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

Not many Dixon firms have been in business in Dixon for sixty years, but outstanding among those who have stood the acid test of time is the Beier Bakery, which this week is celebrating its sixtieth anniversary. One of the pioneer institutions in Dixon, under the supervision of three generations, the Beier Bakery has grown from one small room where Rheinhold Beier, an immigrant from Germany where he had learned the baker's trade, baked his bread in a crude oven and delivered it in a basket, to a great establishment, employing 43 persons and distributing bread daily all over northwestern Illinois to 87 cities and towns. From the humble little shop in Dementtown the business has grown until it occupies a big building in the heart of the business district—a building filled with expensive and modern machinery and equipment for the manufacture of a splendid product.

No need to say that Beier's bake good bread. No need to say that the original loaves turned out by the founder of the firm back near the close of the civil war were good and that the loaves have been good ever since. If they had not been good Beier Bakery would not be here now. In fact, the continuous growth and evident progress and prosperity of the firm down through the years is proof that its bakery products as well as its treatment of its customers was not only good but better than others.

It is a pleasure to congratulate the Beier Bakery on its long and honorable record in Dixon. It is gratifying to see any Dixon firm succeed and Dixon may feel proud to see a home owned business institution growing and dominating such a wide field.

May the Beier Bakery continue to accumulate vigor with its years.

AT THE STATE HOSPITAL.

At the Dixon State Hospital, where Dr. Murray, the managing officer whose splendid ability as an executive and whose great heart and tender compassion for his charges keeps those thousands of unfortunates well cared for and happy, there are many children. There also are some workshops where the higher grade epileptic and feeble minded patients are allowed to interest themselves and occupy their time at making all manner of things. For some time past the workshops have been partially occupied assisting Santa Claus, and when Christmas comes the children patients will be made happy with many beautiful toys. There are kiddie-cars and wagons and rocking toys and funny monkeys and stuffed dolls of every size and kind and cute kitties and birds and baby elephants and sassy puppies and all sorts of things for all ages of children.

These toys are made by the male and female patients in their workshops and will bring untold gladness to hundreds of youngsters. They are all sturdily made and artistically painted.

Life is certainly becoming more complex as we pass the milestones on the path of civilization. Not so many years ago Sunday afternoon was a time when father, full of roast chicken and pie, etc., could sink back in his easy chair, with his feet up on another one, and put in a few comfortable hours of comfortable snoozing. But now the radio has ruined all that, for mother is sure to have noticed that some symphony orchestra is crashing loud harmony through the air, and by the time the squawking and shrieking of the tuning-in process is over sweet dreams are banished and the old man might as well go out and varnish the kitchen linoleum.

If you haven't done your bit in the Goodfellow campaign yet it's now or never. The kids need your help and if you can spare a little money you will have a happier Christmas day yourself because you have made some little hearts glow with happiness.

The girls are going to cover them up now with long dresses, they say. Of course, some of them never should have been uncovered but on the other hand some of them gave a spark of interest in otherwise drab lives for many a gloomy and downtrodden male. It is sad to see them go, but, as someone has said, it was great while it lasted.

Never will Dixon take a back seat for any city. Along with other modern things such as bridges and school houses we seem now to be developing a crime wave. Since our local thugs confine their activities to Saturday nights the local stations might play a joke on the stick-ups, or should it be sticks-up, by closing Saturday nights.

We haven't heard of any prospects for a municipal swimming pool for Dixon for this coming year. Clean, safe bathing facilities are a great asset for any community.

THE TINY MILES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN PICTURES BY MORRIS

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

"Well, Mister Cow seems quite all right," said Santa. "Push him out of sight. He'll simply have to stand and wait till I load up my sleigh. When some tot gets him Christmas morn, he'll be the happiest youngster born. I hate to part with him, but I must soon give him away."

"I'll stay upon his back and ride," wailed Clowzy very loudly. "The rest of you can push me and we'll have a lot of fun." And so the Tines pushed real quick. The way the cow rolled on was slick. "Hurrah!" exclaimed kind Coppy. "That's another good task done."

Old Santa watched them all in glee and then he said, "Now list to me. There are a lot of little tasks that you can share alike. I'll tell each one just where to go and at these jobs work fast, not slow. For all this work I'm going to give you Tines one large bike."

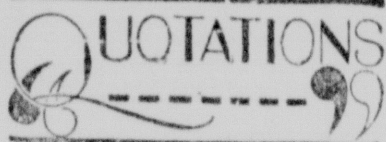

"Oh, fine!" cried Coppy. "That's the stuff!" And, if the bike is large enough we all can ride at once and travel round and round and round. Now tell us what else we must do. We're still enthused o'er helping you. Just name the tasks and rest assured that they will soon be found."

So Santa sent them here and there and, my, you should have seen them tear. Brave Coppy drew an interesting job that he thought fine. Said Santa Claus, "If you don't mind, some wooden soldiers you can find. Please tell them all to dress up nice and form into a line."

"And then will come your turn for fun. Hand everyone of them a gun, and then they will be ready for their trip within my sleigh." Off Coppy ran. "You bet I will," he shouted. "This will be a thrill!" And, as he handed out the guns, the soldiers yelled, "Hurrah!"

(The bunch laugh again at Clowzy in the next story.)

Daily Health Talk

OVERLOOKED SOMETHING?

By GEORGE C. RUHLAND, M. D.
Commissioner of Health
Syracuse, New York.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

This is the near-holiday season—the season of cheer and gladness. Once again this old hard-boiled world is getting ready to soften and give itself up to the spirit of Good Will toward its fellow men. Once again we are getting ready to prove this feeling of mutual good will by giving presents to make someone happy.

Perhaps you are one of those fortunate and considerate persons who have attended to their Christmas shopping. If you have, you are to be congratulated.

But are you quite certain that you have not overlooked something? There is a gift that we suggest you include in your Christmas shopping. It is the Christmas Seal—the little paper stickers that are sold for one cent by the National Tuberculosis Association.

Every Christmas card, every letter, every package and gift ought to carry at least one.

Remember that the little holiday stickers which you may purchase are a real power for good. The money they bring is used by the National Tuberculosis Association in its campaign against tuberculosis and through the years past they have stimulated and kept alive that good work.

More than six hundred hospitals and sanatoria have been established in the United States. Approximately one thousand open-air schools are in operation. As a result of the education campaign made possible by the purchase of Christmas Seals more than eleven thousand public health nurses are working in homes and schools in cities and in remote hamlets to educate children and adults to prevent tuberculosis. The death rate from this disease has been cut in half within the last twenty years, and for this achievement considerable credit is due the annual seal sale.

There still is much to be done to win the fight against tuberculosis, the great white plague. There are still thousands upon thousands of little children, youths, mothers and fathers, victims of tuberculosis, who need help. Other thousands will fall victims to this disease if the campaign of education and protection were not kept up. The Christmas Seals you may purchase will help. DO IT NOW.

Morrow Says He'll Seek Senatorship

Washington, Dec. 17.—(UP)—Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow formally announced his candidacy today for the U. S. Senate in the New Jersey primaries next June.

Morrow will be one of the American delegates to the naval conference starting in London next month after which he will return to Mexico. When he returns to Washington, Senator the post vacated by the resignation of Walter E. Edge to become Ambassador to France, will resign and Morrow will be appointed to succeed him. Former Senator Freungausen also will be a candidate for the Republican nomination against Morrow.

In a formal statement issued at the State Department today, Morrow promised, if elected, to give his best service to the state and nation.

President Hoover is confronted with a difficult problem in replacing Morrow in Mexico. Former Under Secretary of State J. Reuben Clark, now employed by Morrow as legal assistant in Mexico, has been mentioned as a likely choice although his friends doubt he could afford to forsake his income as a lawyer for the $17,500 salary of an ambassador.

GRIDIRON NEWS

West Point, N. Y., Dec. 18—(AP)—The Army threatens to play football games elsewhere unless given courteous treatment in New York.
Major Philip Fleming, graduate manager of athletics said Police Commissioner Grover A. Whalen had refused to provide the Army team with a police escort from its training quarters to the Yankee Stadium for the Notre Dame game, although this had been customary. Later, Whalen reconsidered, Fleming said, after Army authorities had protested that Notre Dame was being provided with such an escort. Fleming pointed out that without an escort the Army team might have been late getting to the stadium because of the big traffic jam there.
"New York isn't the only place we can play," he said. "Of course we can prefer it because it is near the Point and the Cadets are enabled to have a free evening in the city before returning to duty."

The Army squad, 110 strong, goes west today to meet Stanford at Palo Alto, Calif., on Dec. 28. In the squad are varsity, scrub and piebe players.
The trip, in a specially-equipped train, begins at 3 P. M. and ends in California Dec. 24. Three main stops will be made for workouts at Galesburg, Ill., Syracuse, Kas., and Needles, Calif.
Bill Jones, whose career as Army coach will end with the Stanford game, has remained uncommunicative as to the Cadets' chances against Stanford but the Army varsity seems confident that it will win. It has been a disappointing season for the Cadets but they hope to wind it up with a triumph that will make up for the defeats by Notre Dame, Yale and Illinois and the tie with Harvard.
Practice sessions of the last few days have found Jones stressing a forward pass attack with Chris Cagle on the throwing end.
The Army special is made of 13 cars—six pullmans, two baggage, two dining, one observation and two cars equipped with lockers and showers. There are radio sets aboard.

Spud Insists He Has Fun In Bank

Chicago, Dec. 18—(AP)—"Spud" Murphy of Fargo, N. D., wants it known he has saved money from his boxing ventures and that when he wants to cash a reasonably sized check, he had the cash to back it up.
A few weeks ago, "Spud" was amazed to read in the newspapers that he had been arrested in Milwaukee for passing a worthless check. Promoters read it, too, and refused him bouts.
Investigation revealed, however, it was another "Spud" Murphy, whom the real "Spud" is willing to fight anywhere for nothing for casting aspersions on the good name of Murphy.

Turns Professional
Chicago, Dec. 18—(AP)—Alf Engen, one of Norway's greatest ski jumpers, has turned professional, affiliating with the American Ski Association.

Chocolate Returns To Major Fighting

New York, Dec. 18—(AP)—After battling second-raters in tune-up bouts for the past month or so, Kid Chocolate, dusky Cuban featherweight, returns to major competition tonight in a ten round bout with Dominick Petrone of Harlem at the New York Coliseum.
Chocolate, who never has been beaten, probably will be a decided favorite over Petrone but the Harlem battler is nobody's setup.
The Chocolate-Petrone bout heads a card of four ten rounders sponsored by the Fifth Avenue Boys Club. Proceeds of the show will be devoted to the purchase of Christmas baskets for the poor.

SPORT SLANTS

(BY UNITED PRESS)
Chicago, Dec. 18—(UP)—University of Chicago's football team has scheduled the sixth game of its 1930 season with the University of Florida on Oct. 18. The Maroon eleven considered a powerful contender for next year's Western Conference title still has one open date on Nov. 8.

Iowa City, Ia., Dec. 18—(UP)—University and Bradley Tech have been added to the University of Iowa's 1930 football schedule. Bradley will start the Hawkeye season here Sept. 17. Iowa will go to Detroit on Nov. 1. The Hawkeye schedule now includes: Marquette at Milwaukee, Nov. 8; Penn State at Iowa City, Nov. 15 and Nebraska at Iowa City, Nov. 22.

ITALIAN HEAVY COMING

Boston, Dec. 18—(AP)—An announcement indicating that Primo Carnera, gigantic Italian heavyweight, would make his American debut in Boston was made today by Eddie Mack, Boston Garden boxing promoter.
Mack said that Leon C. and Walter Freedman, Carnera's European managers, had cabled him acceptance of a match with Jimmy Maloney at Boston, Jan. 17. The six foot, ten Italian, who weighs 280 pounds, will sail from England on Dec. 24 and arrive in New York on the steamship Berengaria on Dec. 30.
The Boston promoter will have to obtain the approval of Billy Duffy and Pete Stone, Carnera's New York representatives, before making the match with Maloney a certainty.

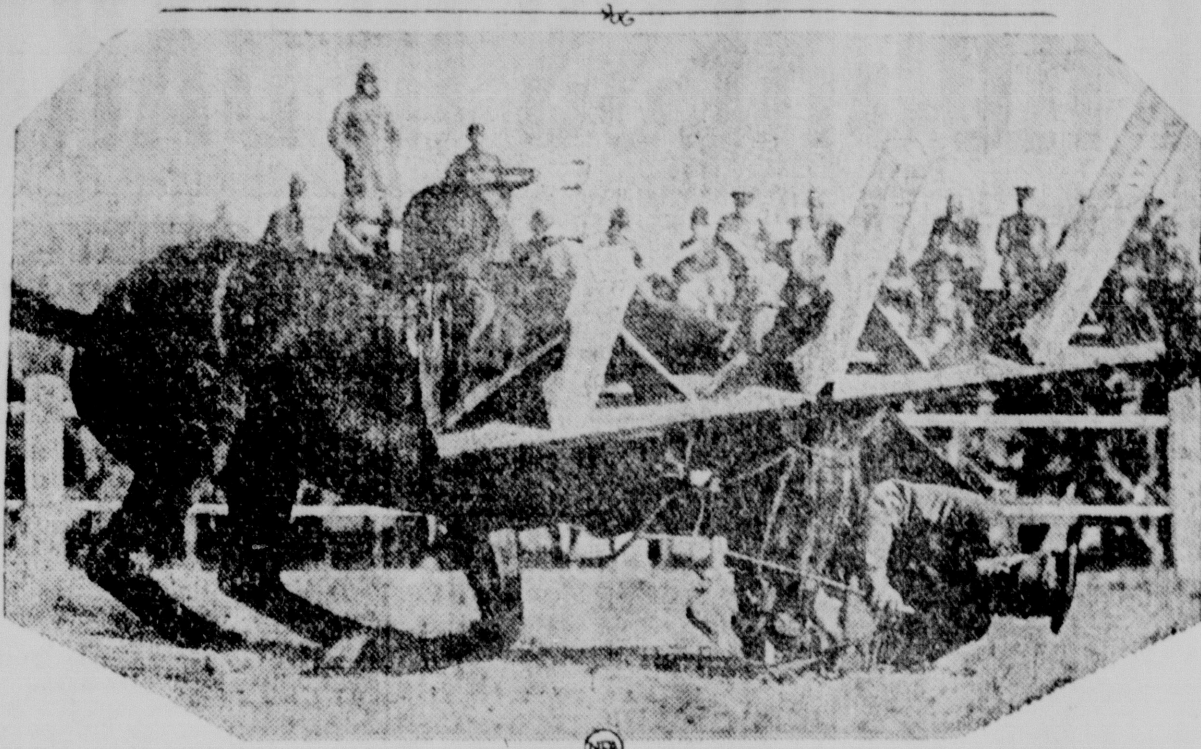

TWO GOLFERS SECURE

San Gabriel, Calif., Dec. 18—(AP)—While the late starters in the San Gabriel 1000 best-ball amateur-professional golf tournament today set about to complete their 18-hole round, which was ended by darkness last night, Clarence E. Clark, Tulsa, Okla., and his amateur partner, Nick McNery of San Bernardino, Calif., will view the finish securely entrenched as winners of the event by virtue of a 4-3 card yesterday.
Fortified by an eight stroke handicap McNery turned in a 74 card, one over par, for his afternoon performance. In doing so he had the best score for eleven of the eighteen holes, with Clark making the round in 75.

PRIATES THE CANADIENS

New York, Dec. 18—(UP)—Pittsburgh's Pirates, tallenders in the American group of the National Hockey league, turned in one of the greatest surprises of the season when they held the Montreal Canadiens, international group pace makers, to a 3 to 3 tie at Pittsburgh last night. one point lead in the final period only to have the Canadiens tie the count near the close. Neither team scored in the 10-minute overtime period.

Montreal's other entrant, the Maroons, advanced to second place in the international group, beating Toronto, 4 to 1, while Ottawa was falling 6 to 2 before the onslaught of the world champion Boston Bruins.
The New York Rangers experienced little difficulty in defeating the New York Americans, 6 to 2, in the first of the team's series of four municipal championship contests.

RESCINDS RULING

New York, Dec. 18—(UP)—In response to the plea of boxing promoters that other states were benefiting at the expense of New York clubs, the State Athletic Commission has rescinded its rule forbidding champions to appear in non-title matches in New York.
Champions will now be allowed to appear in catch-weight matches in New York, providing they defend their titles at least once every six months. Promoters staging catch-weight bouts featuring champions will be forced to submit contracts in which the champion agrees to defend his title, before the catchweight bout will be approved.

SHIRES ON STAGE

Chicago, Dec. 18—(UP)—Art Shires, once nicknamed the Great, whose powers of persuasion failed to turn into a pugilist, has signed a two weeks vaudeville contract, where, as he explains it "I can talk as much as I want to."
The White Sox ball player, whose dream of a future in the ring faded Monday night when he was drubbed by George Trafton, a professional football player, obtained $2,800 for his two fights from Promoter Jim Mullen, he announced. He sent $1,500 of it to his father in Texas.

STIRBLING RETURN

New York, Dec. 18—(UP)—The Stribling family—Pa and Ma and Young William Lawrence and his wife—has returned to New York aboard the liner Olympic.
While enjoying the European vacation Young Stribling engaged in two remunerative matches with Primo Carnera, the Italian circus giant.
After a brief visit at his home in Macon, Ga., Stribling plans to resume his campaign among the heavyweights, he said today, with a view of securing a return match with Jack Sharkey, or a fight with Max Schmeling.

COMMISSION SANTA

New York, Dec. 18—(UP)—The New York state athletic commission played Santa Claus to Jimmy Slattery and Lou Scozza yesterday by announcing that the winner of a bout—if any—between the two Buffalo fighters would be recognized as the official light-heavyweight champion of the world.
Slattery was declared to have advanced to the rank of championship contender because of his recent victory over Maxie Rosenbloom of New York, and Scozza was given his place because he won on a foul from George Courtney of Oklahoma.

Wilson Training To Laugh Off "Cracks"

Chicago, Dec. 18—(AP)—Hack Wilson, the "burly Cub outfielder, is in training at his winter home in Martinsburg, W. Va., but not for a ring battle with Arthur "The Great" Shires.

STORY OF 60 YEARS PROGRESS IN BAKERY BUSINESS

GRANDSON'S OF FOUNDER NOW RUN BUSINESS

Each Generation Has Held To Original Idea and Ideal

No other test writes a story of success quite as dramatically as the test of time. Products and institutions come and go. Names rise and fall. Only the best survive. Beier Bakery has been under the same family management for sixty years—three generations. A business born of meager proportions and year by year building and adding one improvement after another until now it is one of Illinois' finest and most modern bakeries. That you may appreciate and celebrate with us the 60th Anniversary of this institution, we will take you back over these past sixty years and relate step by step the perseverance of the men who have directed this business and its growth and development as time went on.

Founder From Germany.
Rheinhold Beier came from Erfurt, Germany, where he had learned the baker's trade, and settled in Dixon in the fall of 1868. The following year he opened a bakery at 601 Depot Ave. The first day he baked forty loaves of bread. But they were forty good loaves—honest loaves, made the best he knew how. Those post-war days of 1869 were precarious even for the merchant who had spent years in developing a business. Naturally, they presented a host of problems to the new baker. Hot breads and home baking were not to be given up easily, as it required patience, courage and persistence to sell the people on the idea of bakery goods. But those qualities of German thoroughness and a constant aim for excellence won in those days just as they do today.

Delivered With Basket
"Grandfather" Beier continued to do the baking and selling, delivering his products in a basket. Business gradually outgrew the small building. Therefore it was decided to move, in 1876, to a larger and better location on First Street. As the business seemed well established and growing it was deemed advisable to obtain more permanent quarters, so in 1876 he purchased the building located at 126 First St. then occupied by the Boston Store, to which the bakery was moved the following year. New equipment and fixtures were added. "Grandmother" Beier took charge of the retail store and arranged displays to the best advantage. Her help and advice were important in the development of the enterprise.

First Wagon Route.
For ten years there was nothing eventful in the progress of the bakery. Then in 1884 a wagon route was established, operated by a son, William, which gave an extra outlet for the products, while Otto, another son, assisted his father in the shop, learning the business under his expert guidance.

"Grandfather" Beier continued active until 1895, when he turned over the business to his sons. Sales kept on increasing very rapidly and in the spring of 1899 the partnership decided to erect a building located at 107 Hennepin Ave. in the rear of the bakery, for use as additional shop space. A new oven was immediately installed. At this time a second wagon route was established in Dixon to supply the increasing demand for Beier's products. Due to the modernization of the bakery, which improved the quality of its goods, the fame of Beier's bread had extended to surrounding territory, resulting in the inauguration of express shipments to dealers in nearby towns.

Results of Ideal.
The beginning and development of the Beier Bakery has been to an exceptional degree the results of an ideal. That ideas develop into ideals is amply proved by the history of this business. The idea was "Quality"; the conviction that bakery products honestly made and sold would secure lasting friends. Sixty years have passed; yet through every year of its existence the Beier Bakery has adhered to that idea.

In 1906 Otto Beier purchased his brother's interest in the partnership. Shortly afterwards a wagon route was established in Sterling to better serve the demand for the bakery's products in that city.

First Wrapped Bread
In 1910 Beier Bakery began to wrap its bread, this concern being among the pioneers in wrapping and protecting its bread and retaining the flavor and freshness in its product.

The flavor of good bread is an element more easily appreciated than described. The attributes of size, flavor and wholesomeness are more important characteristics in discriminating between one loaf of bread and another. That the consuming public appreciates the wholesome qualities, nutritive value and attractive appearance of the Beier Bakery's products is noted in the remarkable increase of business that again warranted an enlargement in shop area and installation of additional equipment which made it one of the best equipped bakeries of that period.

On the completion of paving the Lincoln Highway the first long distance motorized delivery service was inaugurated. Otto Beier foresaw the possibilities of truck service to surrounding towns with the development of modern highways radiating from Dixon, which had an important bearing on the building of a new plant at a later date.

Outgrew Plant

Under the watchful supervision and diligent efforts of Otto Beier, with the able assistance of his wife, the business expanded through years of growing success until in 1921 the bakery was operating at capacity. The business had again outgrown the plant. A new crisis had been reached—either expand or stand still. It was decided to build a plant, one that would be a credit to the community which had made its growth possible, an one which he presumed would take care of further expansion for many years. On Oct. 15th, 1922, ground was broken for the new building which capped the climax of Otto Beier's success, into which he built his years of experience in such a way that a plant designed to meet every demand of modern bakery production has resulted.

The culmination of the Beier program occurred July 27th, 1923, when the new and attractive plant was formally opened. It was an immediate success. At this time it was decided to bake a new loaf of bread which would excel even the best bread produced in the home. So the now famous Butter-Krust was put on the market. Many other brands of bread have come and gone, but Butter-Krust is going bigger and better every year. New routes were added from time to time covering surrounding towns. Business steadily increased.

Third Generation.

On June 1st, 1925, Otto Beier relinquished active control of the concern to his sons, Arthur and George, who had been associated in the business with him since 1922. The third generation of ownership has carried on the ideals of the previous two generations. Sales have more than doubled in the past five years, requiring during the summer of 1929, the installation of another oven and the building of an addition for garage and loading purposes.

How times have changed since "Grandfather" Beier baked the first forty loaves! Today the Beier Bakery is operating one of the finest, modern equipped bakeries in Illinois that is capable of supplying their patrons twenty-four thousand loaves of Butter-Krust bread daily.

From one small room with the owner doing the baking to a floor space of 26,155 square feet and forty-three employees is a fitting tribute to the making of high quality products. From one small oven to four large modern ones; from a small patronage to satisfied customers in eighty-six cities and towns served by three railroads, eleven delivery vehicles—these are the material rewards of honesty, ambition and courage.

"Baked Fine Since '69"

The moral victory has been even more far reaching. The entire organization of Beier Bakery are deeply imbued with the fact of our trade slogan: "Baked Fine Since '69." They know that high standards brought about their progress and to the end of maintaining this progress their intelligence, energies, and resources are dedicated to supplying their patrons with the best products and highest class service it is possible to devise.

There has been nothing phenomenal about the growth of the Beier Bakery, just a succession of natural events or sequences of a business endeavor to give the public the very best obtainable. This for over half a century it has conscientiously tried to do.

Birthday Cake Is 4 Feet In Height

A huge birthday cake, the handiwork of Burnell Lepird, one of the force of master bakers at the Beier bakery is attracting a great deal of attention in the display window at the retail store on Hennepin avenue. The huge cake with all of its delicate trimmings stands in all about four feet in height and required several days work to complete the decorations. A crystal arch, illuminated with electric bulbs covers an open book which is formed in frosting to represent the history of the Beier bakery in its 60 years of successful and progressive life in the Dixon business world. Mr. Lepird, is production superintendent at the bakery.

been turned out of the Beier ovens: 180,000 tea biscuits in addition to the millions of rolls and other bakery products.

Three generations of the Beier family have successfully and continuously carried on the baking institution since its inception in 1869. Each succeeding generation has adopted and carried out the motto of the founder of this thriving business, "a better loaf of bread without increase in price." The success of this worthy Dixon institution has been attained by practicing these principles until today it ranks as a leader in Illinois and one of the most modern and best equipped in the country.

Old processes have been discarded for the very latest and most modern. Antiquated machinery which is to be found in many similar industries is not permitted floor space in the Beier bakery, only the most modern methods being used in supplying the huge demand for the Dixon made product.

To 87 Places

The Beier bakery employs 43 persons with an average pay roll amounting to $57,700 annually. This amount is paid to heads of families and is spent with Dixon merchants. A fleet of 12 Dodge motor trucks is employed in delivering the bakery product to the 87 cities, towns and villages as follows:

Adeline, Amboy, Arlington, Ashton, Baileyville, Belvidere, Brookville, Byron, Chadwick, Channahon, Cherry, Colton, Compton, Clinton, Iowa, Creston, Davis Junction, Deer Grove, DeKalb, Dixon, Dover, Daysville, Eldena, Esmond, Everette, Fulton, Forreston, Freeport, Franklin Grove, Grand Detour, Galt, German Valley, Holcomb,

Fleet Of Dodge Bros. Trucks Carry Bread

To deliver the enormous daily output of the Beier bakery, which is this week celebrating its 60th anniversary, a fleet of fifteen Dodge Brothers trucks travel nearly 1,000 miles each day, rain or shine, snow or sleet.

These fifteen Dodge trucks, which were sold and are serviced by Clarence Heckman of this city, were picked by the bakery management after thorough tests and examination, and were selected because of their dependability and economy of upkeep and operation.

Every day of the week these trucks travel to eighty-seven towns in northwestern Illinois delivering the products of the bakery.

Employees Guests At Anniversary Banquet

The force of employees in the production department of the Beier bakery were guests of their employers at a banquet Saturday evening at the Hotel Dixon. George and Arthur Beier were hosts of the occasion and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed with the receipt of many congratulations upon the sixtieth anniversary of the Beier bakery in this city.

1,000 Miles Every Day Without Fail

This fleet of Dodge Brothers trucks, used exclusively by Beier' Bakery, deliver the bread made famous by 60 years of success, to 87 towns and cities in northern Illinois.

Daily these thoroughly dependable trucks travel 1000 miles to get the fresh bakery goods of Beier Brothers to thousands of customers, promptly and surely.

That Beier's use no other motor equipment than Dodge Bros. is evidence of the dependability and economy of these trucks. They selected Dodge Bros. after much experimenting and study.

There's a Dodge for every purpose.

Prosperity

SINCE 1869 we've been friends . . . the people of Dixon and Beier Bakery. We've grown up together . . . experiencing good years and bad . . . panics and booms . . . but always forging ahead . . . surely, honestly. We're old friends, now . . . with confidence in each other's lasting friendship . . . facing the same bright future.

Times have changed since 1869. We've lost kerosene lamps, mustache cups and bustles. The sweet toned zither has given place to the radio . . . the old family surrey to the automobile.

But the quality of our baking doesn't change. Its goodness is constant . . . its purity unvarying. The ways of grandmother's kitchen give way to magic modern methods . . . but nobody has ever discovered anything better than rich milk . . . pure cane sugar . . . tested flour . . . thoughtfully, skillfully blended and baked.

We believe that Beier's Butter Krust Bread is a loaf as fine as it is possible to bake . . . brimful of old-time goodness and purity. We say this as one old friend to another, sincerely, proudly.

The modest little bakery that used to be and the little river town of 60 years ago have grown up . . . but their friendship has only started!

AVIATORS TELL OF FLIGHT AND CRASH OF PLANE

Head Winds At End Of Flight Exhausted Supply Of Fuel

Rio Janeiro, Dec. 18.—(AP)—Major Tadeo Larre-Borges and Lieutenant Leon Challe probably will complete in another airplane the flight to Montevideo, Uruguay, from Seville, Spain, which their own Breguet plane Monday found too difficult.

It is expected that as soon as both men arrive at Natal, in northeastern Brazil, from the isolated spot where they crashed after flying 3600 miles across the Atlantic, they will be offered another machine in which they will fly first to Rio Janeiro and then to Montevideo.

Lieutenant Challe, slightly injured over one eye and painfully bruised, was brought by airplane last night from the spot of their mishap, near Santo Antonio, to Natal. Major Larre-Borges was too fatigued to make the trip and preferred to sleep. Lieutenant Challe, though not badly injured, was removed to a hospital.

The plane was expected to return for Major Larre-Borges and bring him to Natal today. The plane and pilot, oddly enough, were the same which brought the Italian aviators, Ferrarin and Del Prete, to Natal after a not dissimilar experience at the end of their trans-Atlantic flight in 1928. The plane of Major Larre-Borges and Lieutenant Challe was wrecked in their forced landing.

Persons familiar with the territory in which they landed were amazed that the two met no more harm. The district is the home of the ferocious Brazilian wildcat.

Natal, Brazil, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Two tired and shaken trans-Atlantic aviators, supplanted with graphic detail today the silence which enveloped their flight from Seville, Spain, to a nearly fatal crash in the edge of Brazil's dense forests, 42 hours later.

Lieut. Col. Tadeo Larre-Borges, the Uruguayan, rested at Santo Antonio from the strain and shock of the second air accident which has marked his attempts to link his native land with Spain.

ANN ARBOR MAN PRAISES KAVATONE

Well-known Citizen Gives Famous Medicine Credit for Health Regained.

People in all parts of the country are finding that Kavatore brings relief more surely and quickly than they even hoped. Typical of this experience is the case of Frank Smith, well known Ann Arbor, Mich., man, who lives at 549 Third St. Dr. Smith, the last few years Mr. Smith has suffered almost constantly from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble.

FRANK SMITH.

Mr. Smith's liver and stomach were in terrible shape and that it was impossible for him to get a good night's sleep because he would have to get up several times each night. The rheumatism gave him agonizing pain at times and naturally such suffering took its toll in strength and general health. In addition to these troubles, Mr. Smith also had a bad stomach condition. He says that no matter how careful he tried to be about his diet, food would sour and ferment on his stomach causing intense gas pains and awful nervousness and such dizzy spells that he would stagger at times like a drunken man. His condition became so bad that for more than a year he was unable to work steadily.

After hearing what Kavatore was doing for people similarly afflicted in other cities Mr. Smith decided to try it. He says that almost from the day he started taking Kavatore his condition improved. He says the bloating and gas pains have disappeared from his stomach, and he is sleeping and eating better than for a long time. The swelling has gone from his legs, the rheumatic pains have disappeared and that he feels better in every respect than he has for years.

The Kavatore man is at the Ford Hopkins Co., where he is daily meeting the public and personally explaining the merits of this great preparation. The famous Kavatore figure (an ingenious human torso showing every organ of the body) is used in this demonstration and everyone is cordially invited to see and study this figure, an experience which will be in interesting and instructive.

Miss Leedom now is the wife of Frank Doelger, lower right, heir to the Peter Doelger brewery millions. Mrs. Endor only now has revealed Mrs. Doelger as the "unknown correspondent" whom she named in divorcing her husband in 1926. crash at 4 A. M. (2 A. M. E. S. T.) yesterday, Capt. Leon Challe, Larre-Borges' French companion, belittled the serious gash above his eye and the body bruises which he suffered. He chose to thank fortune for directing them through the dense fog to a landing from which they survived.

"Fortune smiled," he said. Challe was brought to the hospital here in a plane of the Aeroplane Latécoere Company, which had been dispatched from Pernambuco, near the scene of the crash.

Told of Flight
From his cot, the Frenchman revealed that the flight of the Breguet lat biplane had progressed without incident for a great part of the journey along the northern African coast, where Larre-Borges and three companions were forced down at sea two years ago and held captive by Moors.

The weather had been favorable as they struck across the water and passed the Cape Verde Islands early Monday but as they neared the northern Brazilian coast the same afternoon they struck heavy head winds which cut into their fuel supply, finally forcing them to strike out for the nearest possible landing place.

"Everything had gone well," Challe said. "Our motor was functioning perfectly throughout. We had hoped to swing down the coast but encountered storms which slowed us up, reduced our fuel and finally forced us down."

Fuel Exhausted
"When we calculated we had 50 hours of fuel on leaving Seville, we could not foresee that we would have to fight head winds. But we struggled for hours against the adverse air currents, wasting fuel.

"Our landing was voluntary but unfortunately we descended in a forest. We were sorry, after a fine trip across the Atlantic to have the misfortune."

"We tried in vain to learn our position, but the weather was against us. We remained in the air as long as was possible."

Challe was cheerful and took time to telegraph a message of thanks to Marcel Bouilloux Lafont, president of the Aeroplane Company.

The plane fell to earth 42 hours after the fliers left Tablada Aerodrome at Seville. The straight-line distance is approximately 3700 miles.

Accuse Communists

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 18.—(UP)—Charge that the National Miners' Union strike in the Illinois coal fields is financed by the Communist Party of America is made in the report of the American Vigilant Intelligence Federation, published in the Black Diamond, official trade journal of the Illinois Coal Operators, here today.

The report traces the birth of the union and its growth, gives dates and documents which are presented as evidence of an alleged financial hookup to the Communists.

The report declares the Communists seized upon internecine strife between warring factions of the United Mine Workers of America to plant the seeds of chaos and issue a call for a strike which would "build up a new union."

Delegates Pleased

Washington, Dec. 18.—(AP)—Satisfaction over the results of the first exchange of views between the principal American and Japanese delegates to the London naval conference was evident today as the visiting delegation laid aside official work for the first time since leaving home shores three weeks ago.

Conversations which were initiated yesterday at a three hour conference at the home of Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of State, and chairman of the American Delegation, will be completed tomorrow in the few remaining hours before the Japanese leave for New York preparatory to sailing for London.

ENRAGED OVER ARREST, KILLS THREE VICTIMS

West Virginian Called Victims To The Door, Then Shot

Romney, W. Va., Dec. 18.—(UP)—Enraged because of his arrest on a liquor law charge, Walter Crabtree, 25, called three men to the doors of their homes here early today and shot them to death.

The victims were Justice of the Peace H. C. Inskip, 35; Ben Miller, 45, turnkey at the Hampshire county jail and Ed Wolford, 18.

Three women, caught in the line of fire, were slightly wounded.

Crabtree, described by the Sheriff as a "bad man," was arrested last week on charges of intoxication and possessing liquor. He was arraigned in Justice of the Peace Inskip's court, fined and sentenced to three days in jail.

Young Wolford, according to the Sheriff, gave the information which resulted in Crabtree's arrest.

Crabtree learned the identity of his betrayer and armed himself with a shotgun. Shortly after midnight, he knocked on the door at Judge Inskip's home.

Called Men To Doors
"I want to see the Squire," he said. As Inskip appeared in the door Crabtree fired, killing the Justice instantly.

From Inskip's home, Crabtree went to the Miller and Wolford homes.

Each time he called his victim to the door and killed him with one shot.

The installment slayings were executed so swiftly that he encountered no resistance.

Crabtree was arrested by State Police Corporal Joe Ruckman and Deputy Sheriff Horne, while returning to his home. He offered no resistance, although he still carried the shotgun.

As news of the triple killing spread public feeling became intense and Crabtree was removed to the Keyser, W. Va., jail for safe-keeping.

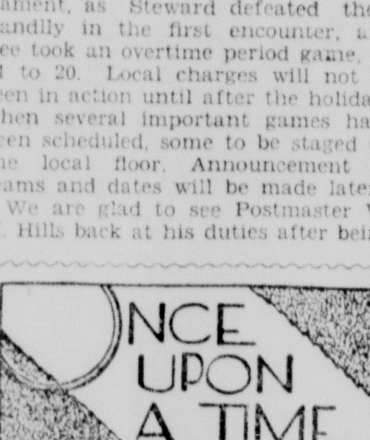

The Sheriff's office said Crabtree has a long police record. He figured in numerous shootings in the past, it was said.

Details concerning the wounding of the women were vague. The Sheriff assumes they were standing behind the victims in the doorway. They were a Mrs. Wright, a Miss Hotz, and an unidentified woman.

COMPTON NEWS

Compton — Compton high school basketball team was presented with Sportsmanship Cup at the close of the G. R. V. C. tournament at Faw Paw high school gym last Saturday evening. The cup was presented to Captain W. Chacon, and a few remarks by the referee, made it plain that the local basketball team was deserving of the trophy. Compton high was unable to win in the tournament, as Steward defeated them handily in the first encounter, and Lee took an overtime period game by 21 to 20. Local charges will not be seen in action until after the holidays when several important games have been scheduled, some to be staged on the local floor. Announcement of teams and dates will be made later.

The program will open with the professional "Hark the Herald Angels sing." The pageant follows under ten episodes. 1. The Prophecies. 2. The Birthplace. 3. The Birth. 4. The Visit of the Angels to the Shepherds. 5. The Coming of the Shepherds to the Manger. 6. The Visit of the Wise Men. 7. The Presentation in the Temple. 8. The Significance. 9. The Acceptance of the King.

Following the professional these episodes will be portrayed in order by a cast of 8 people. All through the episodes 62 magnificent pictures will pass on the screen above the heads of the cast from the stereopticon. Our community is to have a rare treat in this program and everybody is invited.

Rev. W. Hutchinson has purchased the lumber and materials and has built a new extension platform for the church. It is put together so it may be removed and remain a permanent part of the church equipment. It will be used for the first time for the pageant Christmas Eve. The community folk who care to do so are invited to share with the pastor this expense amounting to $13.90. Frequent use of this equipment will be made in the presentation of future programs.

Sudden death of Mrs. Lewis Johnson of Minneapolis, Minn., was a rather severe shock to her many relatives and friends here at Compton. Mrs. Johnson was recovering from pneumonia, and had passed the crisis when her end came. Nearly thirty relatives and friends from Compton attended the last rites for Mrs. Johnson, which were held Monday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Wolford, Rockford.

Sixteen boy friends of Arthur Chacon helped to celebrate his eighteenth birthday at his home last Thursday evening. The party was a surprise by his mother, Mrs. H. M. Chacon, who had a four course dinner waiting Arthur when he came home from attending the Mendota township high school. Sixteen boys were also waiting his return from school to heap congratulations and presents upon him. A school friend, Robert Fredein, was invited home with Arthur, not knowing of the surprise. He was also quietly surprised to find he had been invited to the party. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Glaser of Steward, and son Ivan.

Miss Vera Glaser was hostess for Mrs. Chacon. As Arthur is a member of the M. T. H. S. basketball squad the party after partaking of the four course dinner, journeyed to Mendota to witness the basketball game between Sterling and Mendota.

We extend our Congratulations to the Beier Bakery upon this, their Sixtieth Anniversary.

BEIER BAKERY CELEBRATING; 60 YEARS OLD

and inspecting the Beier bakery, starting in the basement where the flour storage is located and strolling leisurely through the various departments and observing the process of the dough mixture.

Entering the basement which is utilized for flour and ingredients storage, the observer is impressed with the spaciousness, perfect ventilation and natural daylight, the result of modern construction. The basement also contains the huge heating plant which furnishes the heat for the battery of baking ovens, the refrigerating unit, the storage and handling facilities for the various ingredients.

All flour is stored on skids and provision has been made here to maintain a temperature around 70 degrees Far., with a continuous flow of fresh air which is the ideal condition for the satisfactory aging of flour. Following the natural flow of ingredients the visitor is taken to the second floor where the mixing room is located.

Mixing Machines

Here are two large dough mixing machines, one of which is the modern and latest developed high speed type which was built especially for the Beier bakery. Two and one-quarter barrels of flour, sufficient to produce about 600 loaves of bread is mixed at one time. This machine thoroughly mixes a bread dough in a brief period of seven minutes. After the dough is taken from the mixers it is placed in long steel troughs which have been thoroughly greased with pure lard for fermentation in an insulated room that is controlled for proper temperature and humidity.

When the dough has received sufficient maturity it is placed in a chute which leads to the divider hopper on the floor below. Water and flour, the latter which is brought to the second floor on an endless belt arrangement is automatically weighed before being placed in the mixing machine with the other ingredients. After the dividing machine automatically scales each loaf the desired weight, the dough is conveyed on a white canvas belt to the rounder which shapes the dough in the form of a ball. From here the dough is conveyed to cups in the proofer where it remains for 15 minutes to receive further conditioning, thence dropping into the moulding machine which shapes the loaf. The moulded bread when placed in the pans is delivered to the steam proofer where the temperature and humidity is controlled automatically by means of an air conditioning unit.

1500 Loaves Per Hour

After a 55 minute proof in the steam proofer the bread is baked in one of the four large white tiled ovens that have a combined capacity of 1500 loaves per hour. As the uniformly baked bread comes from the ovens, it is placed on metal racks and cooled to the proper degree, then to one of the wrapping machines whose intricate mechanism gathers the loaf into its deft grasp, whips a sheet of waxed paper around its golden brown crispness, folds up the brisk fashion, seal the ends and then gently the wrapped loaf is slid out on a canvas belt conveyor and taken to the distribution department where it is loaded into trucks and delivered.

Outstanding in the Beier organization is an employee who has served faithfully in three generations of the successful baking organization, Fritz Menneke. He has been in the employ of the Beier bakery continuously since 1888 and despite his age is still among the active master bakers of this successful organization.

The baking force is divided into two shifts of 20 master bakers, twelve working on one shift and eight on the other. Each morning at 4 o'clock, 12 big delivery trucks start out from the bakery platform loaded with bread and pastry for distribution to the retail trade of northern Illinois and eastern Iowa.

Raised in Business

The present generation of the Beier family who head the successful organization are masters of the baking industry, having grown up from childhood in the business, and by taking an active interest in the development and progress of the baking industry have kept constantly abreast of the times by becoming thoroughly acquainted with every modern and new addition which makes for better bakery products.

While the baking of bread of a most wholesome kind, scientifically produced, has been a specialty with the Beier bakery, other products of baked goods and delicacies have gained in equal popularity. The innovation of the popular barbecue bun has resulted in the development of a department in the baking industry which is of considerable import. This includes many styles of buns and rolls and leads to the coffee cake and eventually to cookies and pies. Special automatic equipment has also been installed for the making of these products.

KONJOLA HELPED HIM AFTER SEVEN YEARS' SICKNESS

Seymour Citizen Tells How
this New Medicine Ended
All His Health
Troubles.

MR. J. F. BECK.

"I suffered from stomach trouble for seven years," said Mr. J. F. Beck, a well known citizen of Seymour. "A lump-like feeling accumulated gases and heartburn after eating, had worried me for years. My liver was sluggish and I was often bilious. Weak kidneys forced frequent night risings. These ailments finally brought on neuritis which racked my shoulders and back with pain."

"Konjola ended all my health miseries. Just as friends said it would. Today my stomach is in perfect condition and I eat what I wish without discomfort. My liver has improved until I am no longer bilious and constipated. My kidneys are normal and I get uninterrupted sleep. Best of all the dread neuritis pains have all gone and my work has become a pleasure. I am in better health than I have been in years, thanks to Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Dixon, Ill., at FORD HOPKINS DRUG STORE, 123 W. First St., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

VISITED DIXON ON RETURN FROM TRIP TO ORIENT

Daughter and Son-in-Law
Of Mrs. Belle Weibezahn Here

Mr. Belle Weibezahn of 512 N. Ottawa Ave., has just visited a short visit from her daughter and son-in-law, Dr. Calvin W. Rice, as they passed through Dixon from a tour of Japan. Dr. Rice is a member of the National Committee of the World's Engineering Congress and was an official delegate from the United States to the Congress just held in Japan, President Hoover being the honorary chairman of the American delegation, and Prince Chichibu, brother of the Japanese Emperor, being the official patron.

Because of the official participation all social functions in Japan were frequented by the highest officials and many personal friendships were formed which it is the hope of the best minds of the two countries, will contribute to the better understanding of the aims of the two peoples.

Many functions were arranged, including the chrysanthemum party, garden parties by the Emperor, Prince Chichibu, and several other officials. Upwards of 800 were in attendance on these occasions and the service was perfection, the music, decorations and food exquisite.

All the motor car companies combined and placed cars at the disposal of the delegates, who were housed in Tokyo. All the sacred temples and palaces, hundreds of years old, were thrown open to the delegates, with a freedom never before matched. Free passes on the official roads were issued to the official delegates and complete and escorted tours were arranged. As a result during the month a great majority of the delegates secured a comprehensive idea of Japan and its customs.

Mrs. Rice was chairman of the women's reception committee of the American delegation and in that capacity frequently met the Princesses and other prominent ladies.

Mrs. Weibezahn's granddaughter attends the same school in St. Louis and is an intimate friend of the granddaughter of Baron Mitsui of Japan.

THIS HAS HAPPENED
MRS. EMMA HOGARTH, inmate of Mrs. Rhodes' boarding house, is strangled to death. BONNIE DUNDIE, "soph" detective, insists POLICE LIE! STRAWN EMIL SEVIER, former boarder with Mrs. Hogarth, accused of trying to rob her, is sought, and FORA HARKNESS, boarder, involved with Sevier, is arrested as material witness, but is out on bail. Other boarders under suspicion are: HENRY DOWD, out of work and using an alias; BOB WEAVER, lost to the Hogarth household, who incurred the old woman's anger by becoming engaged to WALTER STYLES, who is disliked by Mrs. Hogarth; HERT MAGNUS, formerly a writer, boarder, but living in his room until 1245, and DAISY SHEPHERD.

Ronnie learns from papers in Mrs. Hogarth's trunk that SALLY GRAVES who wrote her monthly was her daughter and that she lived in dread of DAN GRIFFIN. Sally's missing husband, hearing details of Sally's murder in New York, Ronnie believes that he has been living in the Rhodes House. Sevier is captured. A letter from Sevier to Ronnie is given a perfect alibi by the girl who hid him for three days.

An old rattled envelope with DUNDIE'S name on it, showing he left New York June 3, involves DUNDIE. He is a writer which interests him. On sudden inspiration he writes an opinion of Riverside, Calif. Magazine's home town.

NOW ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XLVII

THE answer to the telegram to Chaucer Smith, Optician, Riverside, California, came at 10 o'clock on Friday morning, bringing a new luster to eyes heavy with doubt and sleeplessness. And thereafter, for 12 hours, no one could have accused Bonnie Dundie, novice detective, of being a lazy man, or one incapable of moving his long legs swiftly.

Among his activities was the filing in person of long telegrams at his own expense, so that their contents and the information they elicited would not become the property of any curious mind at Police Headquarters.

Four times that busy day a telegraph messenger rang the Rhodes House bell, and three times Dundie was awaiting him to snatch the envelope with avid fingers. When a telegram came about three, however, it was Mrs. Rhodes who accepted the message, having been warned to guard it with her life until the addressee returned from a momentous interview.

He came back accompanied by a keen-eyed, sharp-faced young man, who had been getting his daily dose during a heated hour with Dundie, by alternately nodding and shaking his head with great vigor. A most opinionated young man, but one who undoubtedly knew his stuff. One, too, who asked no annoying questions when he saw an excited detective committing unlawful entry by means of a most efficient skeleton key.

"Look at this!" Dundie cried excitedly, when the door of an other man's room had closed upon the two. And he handed over the message which Mrs. Rhodes had signed for. "I guess that clinches it, doesn't it? You said it he'd had that training, he could do it!"

"Humm," said the head-shaker and nodder, but nodding this time. And then he got busy.

"What's the heavy literature?" "A deed. I'm selling the Rhodes House," she informed him stiffly. "Getting a good price, too. They're going to use the site for an apartment house. In a few weeks there won't be any 'Murder Mansion,' she added bitterly.

"But what am I and the rest of us pampered boarders going to do?" "I'm thinking of buying a house four blocks farther down Chestnut, and opening again about the first of September. If you really want to stay with me, the landlady answered brusquely, but there were tears in her eyes.

"Want to? Just try to get rid of me," Dundie retorted, and hugged her close for a moment before dashing down to the basement.

He knew that what he was looking for could not be far down in the unfilled trash bag, if it was there at all, which he doubted. His pessimism was justified. Empty handed, he plodded slowly upstairs, then, seized with a sudden inspiration, he halted in the second floor hall, took out his skeleton key, and again effected unlawful entry. Ten minutes later he had the keen-eyed, sharp-faced young man on the phone, was exulting: "Found it! And you'd never guess where! See you in the morning about half past nine, O. R.?"

And once more he made a demand upon Mrs. Rhodes: "Have you got such a thing as a small-size photograph record? The kind they make nursery rhymes on?"

"I know where I can get one. Dr. Weeks had a whole book of them for his grandchild."

"Great!" Dundie begged her again. "Send Tilda up with it as soon as possible, and you might lend me a needle and some white thread, too."

"If you've got any mending to do, I guess I can do it for you," she assured him.

"Your stitches would be far too neat!" he refused gaily. "But I'll remember your offer when I cast a button!"

"WELL, how are you coming on?" Lieutenant Strawn greeted his newest recruit rather sourly at 11 o'clock on Saturday.

"You'd be surprised!" Dundie grinned. "Is it all fixed up with the district attorney to keep the boarders tied up all afternoon?"

"He'll keep 'em busy, quizzing 'em about Sevier and the Hogarth case, all right," Strawn promised. "But I'd like to know what the devil you're up to anyway. Seems to me you're either lying down on the job or being damned mysterious."

"The latter, chief, though I'm not being mysterious just for the fun of the thing," Dundie assured him. "There really isn't much to tell yet, though I haven't been lazy. The truth is, I've got a pot on the fire which I'd like you to bring to a boil for me tonight."

"How?"

For 10 minutes Dundie explained, without, however, giving away to his chief the contents of the pot which he hoped would boil over that evening. It was not an easy task, but he left Police Headquarters with Lieutenant Strawn's unwilling and puzzled promise of assistance.

At five minutes to eight that Saturday evening Bonnie Dundie was pretending as much surprise and indignation as any other boarder when Lieutenant Strawn, assisted by Detectives Payne and Wilkins, brusquely ordered all inmates of the Rhodes House to the second floor.

"Where is he going to hold the meeting?" Dundie heard Norma Paige quaver. "In—in Mrs. Hogarth's room?"

Strawn himself answered the question by commanding curtly: "Open your door, Styles. . . . Oh, it's not locked. . . . Come in, everybody, and make yourselves comfortable."

DUNDIE, Magnus and Dundie had seated themselves on the bed which was along the wall in which the door was set. The door was open. The others occupied chairs, Walter sitting with his arm about Norma's shoulders.

"I shall not keep you long, folks," Dundie said.

DAUGHTER OF FORMER DIXON PEOPLE WINNER

Miss Josephine Antoine
Among Five Highest In Radio Audition

Miss Josephine Antoine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Antoine of Boulder, Colo., was one of the Atwater-Kent singing contest winners. This news is of special interest in Dixon as the Antoines at one time were residents of Dixon, their residence here being in North Dixon, on East Chamberlain street between Galena and Ottawa avenues. They left Dixon some twenty years ago and now live in Boulder, Colo. Miss Antoine was included in the five best girl singers in the United States and ranked third in the five. She received two thousand dollars in cash, and is to have the benefit of two years in musical college or instruction from any teacher she might select.

It took two autos to carry the flowers presented her in the last public concert she and John Jameson, the boy winner of the Atwater-Kent contest gave in the auditorium at Denver, Colo. They were entertained by President and Mrs. Hoover at Washington, D. C., where they visited and they also enjoyed a visit to New York.

The Denver Post of Denver, Colo., had the following to say of Miss Antoine and Mr. Jameson:

Six thousand persons — not only from Denver but from surrounding towns — gathered in the auditorium Thursday evening to hear Miss Josephine Louise Antoine and John Jameson, Colorado's two Atwater-Kent singing contest winners, in their last public concert before they leave for New York to compete for the national voice championships of the United States.

The ovation given these young artists was one of the most spectacular ever staged in the auditorium. The huge audience burst into long repeated cheers at the finish of the program, and then the crowd surged forward to the platform and simply overwhelmed the singers with compliments and good wishes for their success in New York.

The auditorium attendants tried for more than half an hour after the concert to clear the building — even flashing the lights off momentarily, and still it took them another fifteen minutes to get the people away from the platform.

Two automobiles were required to haul Miss Antoine's floral tributes to Boulder.

Never in their lives did these youngsters sing better. The comment heard on every side was to the effect that the eight other contestants in the Atwater-Kent national audition in New York will certainly have to "go some" to surpass the Coloradans.

The program of both singers varied from the finest classics to tuneful, lovely popular encores.

As assisting artists there appeared Edith Kingsley Rinqwest, pianist of the Rinqwest School of Music in Denver, where John Jameson has received all his musical training, and Prof. Horace Jones, violinist, director of the violin department of the University of Colorado at Boulder.

They, too, were warmly welcomed. Mrs. A. W. Fitzgerald was accompanist for Miss Antoine, while Edith Kingsley Rinqwest played for John Jameson.

One pleasant touch to the program was the personal appearance of E. H. Baxter Rinqwest, who has been Jameson's teacher for ten years, and Prof. Alexander Grant, head of the music department of the University of Colorado, Miss Antoine's teacher. They were briefly introduced to the audience and received a rousing welcome.

Jameson and Miss Antoine will be heard, positively for the last time before going to New York, on the radio, over KOA, Friday evening (tonight) from 10 to 10:30.

The locomotive's power plant consists of two 300 horse power engines connected to generators of ample capacity to serve four 230 horse power traction motors located on the axles. A gasifier burns a distillate or furnace oil without odor. The engine is the first switch engine to be equipped with roller bearings. The weight on the drivers is 180,000 pounds, equalized uniformly on 38 inch rolled steel drive wheels.

Hard To Measure Guilt In Sentence

Urbana-Champaign, Ill., Dec. 18.—(AP)—It is questionable whether anyone, though he be a most thorough student of criminal law, can measure guilt in terms of a year, or more of imprisonment, Albert J. Harno, dean of the College of Law, University of Illinois, said in discussing crime penalties, here today.

"The theory on which the criminal laws are constructed is likely to lead to irrational results," Harno said, in pointing out concrete examples of the criminal codes of several states of the United States.

"The guilt of counterfeiting in two states," he said, "is twice that of perjury. But in two other states the guilt of perjury is twice that of counterfeiting."

Harno declared that most criminal law codes are patchwork and are not carefully studied pieces of legislation.

"Each legislature is likely to add to the sum total of human conduct that is forbidden and penalized," Dean Harno said, "while penalties are likely to be assessed according to

The dean pointed out that the primary object of the penal code is to assess and apportion punishment according to the degree to which involved in the crime. Punishment is expressed in terms of years of imprisonment, life sentences, fines, or capital punishment.

president and Prof. William F. Strong, trustee.

Before installing the officers, Governor Howes gave an interesting talk in which he said:

"Kiwanis in Dixon is a permanent good will and lasting friendship organization. In the heart of every man there is a feeling to do something for the other fellow. This is not exactly charity or is it generosity, but a spirit to contribute to the other fellow's success. The strength of this club is in the individual member."

In his unique manner he then installed the various officers, who responded with short talks. Retiring president Floyd G. Pao was presented with a past-president's emblem and in a few well chosen remarks, expressed his thanks to the club membership for the success of his year as head of the club.
